DragonFly 1:1 matches each student with an experienced team member to develop key language and math skills for students of all ages. Customized to the specific needs of each student and family, our programmes ensure the acquisition, continuity and practice of academic skills, address the recognized learning style of individuals with Down syndrome, and contribute to the development of confident and resilient learners. All of our staff have been trained in the DragonFly Method, a method based on 15 years of experience, up-to-date research and international best practices.
